Forecast for Friday 25 Jun 2021

Weather: Cloudy with outbreaks of rain. Cloud will break at times through the morning, but most routes remaining rather grey with only limited brighter intervals. A few heavier showers are likely through the afternoon, perhaps with the odd rumble of thunder, but this is low confidence. Showers then fading during the evening, but staying cloudy.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 800m: 20% increasing to 60% during the morning.

Visibility: Poor visibility likely through the morning, especially on hills above 400m which are likely to be shrouded in cloud. Whilst this cloud will lift and break up through the day, many high routes, above 800m, are likely to stay shrouded throughout. Best of the viewing conditions will be through the afternoon, away from showers, and in the south, where some moderate to good visibility is possible.

Meteorologist's View

A pretty poor and cold feeling day, especially with fresh winds, occasional rain, and many routes shrouded in cloud. Best of the walking conditions will be in the afternoon, but this will be alongside a greater risk of heavier showers.

Forecast for Saturday 26 Jun 2021

Weather: Generally dry but cloudy initially, however cloud will break up a little during the morning with a mixture of sunny spells and showers from late morning. These becoming locally heavy during the afternoon with perhaps the odd rumble of thunder.

Maximum wind: Northwesterly 20 mph gusting 25-30 mph.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 800m: 30% increasing to 70% during the afternoon.

Visibility: Generally good at low levels, but poor above 500m at first with hills becoming shrouded with cloud through the early hours. This cloud level should gradually break and lift through the day, but hills above 800m often remaining obscured. Some poor visibility also likely during any heavy showers that occur.

Temperature: Valleys: Plus 9 Celsius rising to Plus 16 Celsius.
At 800m: Plus 6 Celsius rising to Plus 12 Celsius.
Freezing level: Above summits.
